CONSTANTINE IN PRISON, REBELS SWEAR IN NEW KING; COMMITTEE NOW IN POWER

Minister Reported Slain in Uprising Which Overturned Throne.

MOB STORMED PALACE.

King Wrote Letter Giving Up Sceptre Under Pressure of Military.

CONSTANTINOPLE, Sept. 28 (Associated Press).—Former King Constantine of Greece, who abdicated yesterday, is reported to have been imprisoned by the revolutionists in Athens.

It is reported also that one of the Ministers in the Cabinet of Premier Triantafyllakos was killed during the troubles there incident to the abdication of Constantine. (Minister Sederis was reported as wounded yesterday.)

Venezelotas is said to be in control of the island of Syra, in the Greek Archipelago. An important cable station is situated on the island.

ATHENS, Sept. 28 (United Press).—The Crown Prince was sworn in as King George II. to-day, to replace his father, King Constantine, who fled the throne when a bloodless revolution swept the country.

The ceremonies were presided over by a revolutionary committee of three Generals, including Gen. Papoulas, who has evidently replaced Col. Gonatas as chief of the Revolutionists.

Immediately after the ceremony, which lacked the pomp that usually attends such events, the Revolutionists announced their intention of starting the armies to Thrace to defend the territory from the threatened invasion of Mustafa Kemal's Turkish Nationalists.

One revolutionary regiment has landed in Athens to maintain order. The leaders of the revolution are evidently determined to prevent bloodshed. Reports received from Salonica stated a civilian mob stormed the Post Office, but was quickly repulsed by the troops of the revolution.

The revolutionary committee requested the dethroned Constantine, his wife, Sophia, and Princess Andrew and

WIFE'S LOVE PLEA IN COURT ENDS SEPARATION SUIT

Victor G. Finch, Accused of Cruelty, Reconciled to Wife by Her Collapse.

The separation suit brought in White Plains by Mrs. Florence L. Finch of Bedford against her husband, Victor G. Finch, chief gardener of the country estate of E. C. Converse, a millionaire resident of Greenwich, Conn., came to a sudden halt to-day, when it was announced the couple had become reconciled after the plaintiff had fainted on the witness stand. Mrs. Finch had declared her fond love for her husband, despite her recital of cruel acts, and was being cross-examined by Charles Haines, the defendant's attorney, when she swooned.

A physician was hastily summoned and it was after she had revived and her husband held her hand a smile of joy illumined Mrs. Finch's face. Later they had a talk and agreed to live together again.

"I forgive you for everything," were the words of the wife. Then the couple went back to Bedford.

When Lawyer Haines, in behalf of the defendant, told Supreme Court Justice Young there had been a reconciliation and suggested that the case be held in abeyance for six months, Justice Young said: "Don't be too hard on this poor little woman. I think your client is a hard proposition. He was about as cold as an icicle. I don't know how much hope there is about this reconciliation."

Lawyer Squires, who appeared for Mrs. Finch, told Justice Young that Mr. and Mrs. Finch were living together once more and that they had reached this agreement for the sake of their children. Then Justice Young said to Lawyer Haines:

"I wish you could deliver this message to your client, Mr. Finch: 'That I have no idea that this little woman lied while on the witness stand. I believe she told the truth.' I hope you will deliver this message to him. It may do some good. The action is dismissed."

Mrs. Finch, testifying yesterday, had just finished telling of the many cruelties of her husband when in tears she burst forth:

"I loved that man with all my heart. I love him now. I had hoped to the last that he would do right, but he didn't."

Home-seeking Made Easy by World Apartment Ads.

Newspaper advertising, particularly The World's "To Let" advertisements has changed the old laborious and nerve wrecking househunting experience into a comparatively easy and pleasant task. The modern woman begins househunting by reading The Sunday World Real Estate Section at the breakfast table. Selects the apartment she wants and then goes out and hires it. She, of course, has to be prompt because The World ads. are widely read and bring many responses.

ANOTHER AUTOPSY DECIDED UPON IN JERSEY MURDER

Leading Pathologist to Examine Exhumed Bodies of Rector and Mrs. Mills.

PHILLIPS QUESTIONED.

Watchman Saw Woman Enter Hall Home Night of Slaying.

(Special From a Staff Correspondent of The Evening World.) NEW BRUNSWICK, Sept. 28.—Prosecutor Beekman of Somerset County, over the line from this city, where the bodies of the Rev. Edward W. Hall and Mrs. Eleanor Mills were found murdered Sept. 16, is seeking a "pathologist of international reputation" to perform the second autopsy on the body of Mrs. Mills when it is exhumed pursuant to an order signed to-day by Justice Parker.

"We will not consider the time of exhuming the body," Mr. Beekman said, "until we have determined who is to do the work. When arrests are made and the accused come to trial we are assured that they will have every resource of medical and legal advice which money and influence can obtain. The man who performs these autopsies must be an authority who cannot be confused and whose findings will carry the utmost weight."

Application is to be made to-day to the Supreme Court in Brooklyn for permission to have the same specialist perform an autopsy on the body of Mr. Hall, who is buried in Greenwood Cemetery.

Apparently information has come to the investigators which leads them to believe that two revolvers were used in killing the rector and Mrs. Mills. It is desired to measure the wounds in the skulls of both victims and to recover the bullets, if possible, to determine whether this is true, as well as to get data as to the direction from which the bullets were fired and the number of them. At the first autopsy Mr. Long, the County Physician for Somerset, contented himself with finding a wound on each body "sufficient to have caused death."

After Prosecutor Beekman heard for the first time the story of William Phillips, watchman at the Women's

700 STUDENTS ILL OF FOOD POISONING IN ALA. HIGH SCHOOL

No Deaths Reported, but Many Violently Sick After Sandwich Lunch.

ATE IN THE KITCHEN.

Two-Thirds of Pupils Affected by Food Prepared by Mothers' Association.

BIRMINGHAM, Ala., Sept. 28.—School and health authorities of Birmingham to-day were investigating the poisoning of scores of students of the Woodlawn High School, said to have resulted from food served at the school luncheon yesterday at noon.

A roll call at the school to-day showed 760 students absent, a result of the poisoning.

It was stated by the school authorities that the total number affected probably reached 700. There are more than 1,100 students in the school, and 440 of those present to-day reported they suffered slightly from the effects of the food.

Many of the students absent to-day were violently ill for a time, but it was said that all but one were out of danger.

Investigation indicated that the students were poisoned by eating sandwiches made from beef, cabbage, celery and pickles at the school cafeteria.

Scores became ill in class rooms during the afternoon, while others dropped on the streets while returning to their homes later in the day.

The school lunch room is in charge of the School Improvement Association, composed of mothers of students.

True to his announced intention of going before the convention for a renomination John J. Lyons, Secretary of State, continued to be a candidate and the Miller steam roller passed over him and flattened him out. The result was a few scattering votes. The result was named J. Unable to Find Any Reputable Democrat Who Is Willing to Bear His Label, Publisher Turns to Mayor On Chance of Stamping Delegates—Ex-Governor Gains Over Night.

Murphy Continues to Maintain Silence as Pressure Such as Never Before Has Been Brought to Bear Upon Al Smith, Who Is Standing on Loyalty Pledge to Party.

By Martin Green. (Staff Correspondent of The Evening World.)

SYRACUSE, Sept. 28.—The opening of the Democratic Convention is marked by a continuation of the deadlock between the dominating Smith and the minority but aggressive Hearst forces. The Hearst managers have made no headway. They have gained no delegates and they have been unable to find in all the State a reputable Democrat who will pin his hat for Hearst and go before the convention seeking the nomination for Governor bearing the Hearst label.

The convention opened an hour late, at 1:20 o'clock, with only part of the delegates present.

HARDING PICKS YANKEES TO WIN WORLD SERIES

WASHINGTON, Sept. 28.—Dave Bancroft, Captain and shortstop of the New York Giants called at the White House to-day to invite President Harding to attend the World Series.

The President, Bancroft said, told him that he was not certain he would be able to leave Washington, but that he expected the Yankees to win.

"President Harding believes the Yankees will win because of their pitching staff," Bancroft said, after his talk with the President.

"He told me, however, that he thought if Barnes comes through like he did last year and Nehf is in form, the Yankees won't have a chance. Otherwise, he can't see anything in a Giant-Yankee series but the Yankees."

As Bancroft was leaving the White House he met Secretary of State Hughes, with whom he was photographed. Hughes told Bancroft that he also would like to see the series, but felt that official duties would not permit it. Secretary Hughes would make no predictions as to the winner.

IRISH TROOPS EVADE BOMB DEATH TRAP

Forces Sweeping Up Rebels in Kerry.

BELFAST, Sept. 28 (Associated Press).—The military forces of the Provisional Irish Free State are engaged in sweeping movements against the Republicans in County Kerry. The operations are progressing vigorously and the number of prisoners is growing rapidly.

The Republicans continue their attacks on Nationalist posts, as part of their plan of guerrilla warfare.

A deadly trap laid for the Nationalists in County Cork was discovered in time to prevent a tragedy. The Republicans had skillfully hidden bombs in a number of trees, previously felled across a road. The bombs were so placed that an attempt to move the trees would explode them.

Capt. Connelley of the Free State forces was mortally wounded in an ambush near Kiltormer, County Clare.
